Instructions for parents:

On days 1, 3, and 5; have your child run through the pieces that they are reviewing (i.e. not their current working piece or pieces they don't know) without stopping. Make a light pencil mark next to the pieces in which the child forgets, hesitates, or makes mistakes. You may want to jot down a note in your notebook regarding the nature of the mistake.

On days 2, 4, and 6; have your child play the pieces again, and interrupt if they make the same mistake. Work on a small section for a bit, and afterwards see if the child can put the small section back in context by playing the whole piece again. If you were not able to work through it, don't spend any more time on it, just let me know. If they don't make mistakes, move on to other lesson work.
